

Occupational Health & Safety Policy

Genis Steel is committed to providing a safe and healthy working environment for all workers, contractors and anyone else who may be affected by our operations.

We understand that OHS is an integral part of our business operations and that no business priority comes before safety. We will strive to continually improve our systems and processes, through prioritising our business activities and implementing beneficial changes needed.

Consistent with this, the Company will:

- Establish and monitor measurable objectives and targets to continually improve health and safety performance.
- Demonstrate compliance with applicable health and safety laws, regulations, standards and other relevant requirements.
- Manage risk by implementing a methodology for hazard identification, risk assessment and implement appropriate actions to minimise risks, to as low as reasonably practicable.
- Consult with and involve workers in the management of workplace health and safety.
- Educate and train managers and workers, to enable them to work safely.
- Operate and maintain an OHS management system in accordance to ISO45001:2018
